

Science Teacher Survey on Curriculum and Instruction Decisions

	Strongly Agree	Agree	No Opinion	Disagree	Strongly Disagree
I have a great deal of freedom in making decisions about the way I teach my science classes.
I have a great deal of freedom in making decisions about curriculum.
I rely primarily on textbooks to determine what I teach.

Source: Horizon Research, Inc. tabulations of 1990 NAEP data